Re: Fort Smith Police Receive $30,000.00 Grant from Cox Communications

On September 16th the Fort Smith Police Department received a $30,000.00 grant from Cox Communications. This grant has been awarded to create a mobile computer classroom for use by the Department. This new tool will allow many enhancements which will benefit area law enforcement and the community in general. Some of these benefits include;

- Ability to host more high tech training for law enforcement in the region
- Hands on community outreach presentations for parents, caretakers, etc
- Child Online Exploitation prevention training
- Identity theft training for senior citizens
- School Faculty/Student training
- Work with nonprofit groups to assist their victim outreach

This partnership with Cox Communications will allow us to take the proactive fight against computer crime to the next level as we empower and better educate our community, making all of us a little safer as we make our digital commute across the information highway. Please contact Sergeant Adam Holland with the Fort Smith Police Department with any questions or suggestions about this exciting news. (479-709-5129)
